Roadmap to

Pennsylvania Dutch Country

The farmers who till these fields may be called the Plain People, but the views are far from ordinary in this land where cars comfortably share the road with horse-drawn buggies.

Traveler's Notes

Hans Herr House

There are two sides to every story. And the story you bring home from Lancaster County will be no different. On one side, you'll share memories of the expected - farmlands, family-style feasts and the Amish. On the other, the unexpected - city life, exquisite cuisine and contemporary art. Both sides are equally fascinating and filled with priceless memories.

Lancaster County has a history of farming and producing fresh, locally-grown fruits and vegetables. Farm-to-Table cuisine is a way of life here, with homemade and hand-crafted delights filling tables and tummies.

Central Market is a must see when in Pennsylvania Dutch Country. The market dates back to 1742 and the building was constructed in 1889. It's the oldest continually operating farmers' market in the country. Find fresh flowers, baked good, produce, meat, and more at this Lancaster gem.

Facts & More Information To Plan Your Trip!

At the historic East Strasburg Station, authentic structures such as this switch tower, offer visitors a genuine railroad experience.

- Intercourse: Beautiful Amish farms surround the village, which is located along the Old Philadelphia Pike (Route 340) in Eastern Lancaster County.
- Ephrata Cloister: One of America's earliest religious communities, the Ephrata Cloister was founded in 1732 by German settlers seeking spiritual goals rather than earthly rewards.
- Landis Valley Village & Farm Museum: A 100-acre living history museum in Lancaster, Pennsylvania. It collects, conserves, exhibits, and interprets Pennsylvania German material, culture, history and heritage from 1740 through 1940.
- Lancaster: Experience authentic Lancaster County Amish, and the best Dutch Country attractions, shopping, and dining
- Marietta: Formerly known as "Anderson's Ferry," the town prospered in Colonial Days as a result of flourishing river commerce on the Pennsylvania Canal and Railroad. Success produced an architectural gallery of Colonial, Federal, and Victorian homes.
- Hans Herr House: Explore the oldest homestead in Lancaster County. The 1719 Hans Herr House is a registered historic landmark and family-friendly destination.
- Strasburg: From cozy bed and breakfasts to magnificent theatrical productions to unique quaint shops and one of the largest outlet malls in the state nearby - the Strasburg community has something for everyone. While you are there, ride in an authentic Amish buggy, take a trip to Paradise aboard an authentic steam train and explore the quiet back roads past rolling hills and real working Amish farms.
